DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 8, 2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1 to 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over each of Summers (PCT Document

Art Unit: 1742

No. WO 80/01999, cited in the IDS submitted January 4, 2005) or Swainston et al. (Swainston, EPO Document No. 0 080 326, cited in the IDS submitted January 4, 2006).

Each of the references teaches a method of casting molten metal in a helically traveling magnetic field as recited in the instant claims (Summers, page 1, line 15 to page 2, line 20 and Swainston, page 1, line 10 to page 2, line 16), comprising providing inductors around a metal melt (Summers, page 6, lines 15 to 20 and Swainston page 4, lines 27) and applying current to the inductors to create a helical magnetic field around the metal melt during casting (Summers, page 7, lines 6 to 14 and Swainston, page 5, lines 5 to 24).

The references and the claims differ in that the references are silent with respect to the use of "m-phase systems of alternating current modulated in a superwave pattern to excite modulated helically traveling magnetic field in the melt" (claim 1, lines 6 and 8).

However, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have considered the invention to have been obvious because there is nothing to indicate that the "m-phase systems of alternating current modulated in a superwave pattern to excite modulated helically traveling magnetic fields in the melt" as recited in the instant claims and the resulting helical magnetic field differ from the current used to excite the magnetic field and the resulting helical magnetic field in each of the references.
